RE: Quote #IW060253

This contract is for bulk HFS delivered to several different sites. This market remains tight. While we have a commitment from our vendor for enough availability to satisfy your account, at times delivery is slower than we would like.

We have continued to receive increases in price on a regular basis. The manufacturers do not guarantee pricing or delivery for any period of time, so we are taking all the risk on our own.

Your current price is $2.25 per gallon; the proposed price is $2.60 per gallon. If you have any other questions, please let me know. We look forward to continuing our service to your facilities.
